2. DATA COLLECTION ANALYSIS

2.6 Data Analysis Questions

Analyze the LEA's data and answer the guiding questions to determine existing trends and patterns that support the identification of demographic and financial needs. Student subgroups with a count of less than 15 are denoted by "TFS" (too few students).

What perception data did you use?
[examples: student perceptions about school climate issues (health survey, violence, prejudice, bullying, etc.); student/parent perceptions about the effectiveness of programs or interventions; student understanding of relationship of school to career or has an academic plan]

We used feedback from parents gathered from Parent Engagement Surveys and CCRPI stakeholder surveys.

What does the perception data tell you? (perception data can describe people's knowledge, attitudes, beliefs, perceptions, competencies; perception data can also answer the question "What do people think they know, believe, or can do?")

We learned the community and school stakeholders feel strongly that Sunset Elementary provides a rigorous and relevant education for the students.

What process data did you use? (examples: student participation in school activities, sports, clubs, arts; student participation in special programs such as peer mediation, counseling, skills conferences; parent/student participation in events such as college information meetings and parent workshops)

We used survey data from school staff members, 2019 AdvancED Accreditation Report, weekly PLC agendas, and leadership team agendas to inform this part of the process.

What does the process data tell you? (process data describes the way programs are conducted; provides evidence of participant involvement in programs; answers the question "What did you do for whom?")

From CCSS AdvancED 2019 Report

Concentrated efforts at becoming a data-driven, collaborative school system are evident in Colquitt County. Since 2016-2017, Professional Learning Communities (PLCs) have been utilized to support vertical and horizontal alignment and to facilitate collaboration. Based on artifact reviews, schools formed PLCs that operate by grade level, content area and/or course level. "It was in the 2017-2018 school year that 100 percent of the staff certified their participation in the school-based PLCs regarding training linked to school improvement goals and best practices. At the same time, 100 percent of the leaders certified participation in system-based PLCs regarding training linked to district improvement plan goals and best practices," stated an administrator. Artifacts included agendas, minutes, and data dig materials that verified all certificated staff members participated in PLCs for the past two

Colquitt County Schools have established a data-driven culture. Evidence of the data-driven culture is demonstrated with the analysis and use of data from such sources as Dynamic Indicators of Basic Early Literacy Skills (DIBELS), IReady, Scholastic Reading Inventory (SRI), Phonological Awareness Literacy Screening (PALS) and Measures of Academic Progress (MAP). "All schools utilize valid and reliable assessments to screen students three times per year. Illuminate is used to facilitate testing and disaggregate data," shared an administrator. "The disaggregated data is used to identify sub-groups for PLC focus and to identify needs by standard," stated a department head. "Colquitt County's multi-tiered system of support is based on this data analysis and intervention periods are scheduled at every school. Interventionists and academic coaches have been hired to teach school to support students and teachers. Data teams also operate at each school and lead the system with the use of the TregoED situational analysis process for building system capacity," shared a system leader. "With the TregoED process, we are achieving practical solutions to our school system's toughest issues," stated an administrator. "Our data teams use a template for data collection and analysis and hold retreats to analyze benchmark data, unit test data and milestone data," shared a data team member. "We don't just analyze academic data. We include enrollment, attendance, discipline, financial, facilities, personnel and athletic data, shared a system administrator. "We are constantly analyzing dual enrollment course credits, Advanced Placement offerings and Career, Technical and Agricultural Education (CTAE) credentialing," shared a school administrator. The superintendent's presentation included enrollment trends, enrollment by ethnicity, expenditures per FTE with comparisons to other school systems, changes in free/reduced lunch status, discipline trends, daily attendance trends, special education population trends, facilities improvements and additions with funding sources, and staff demographics. To accompany the statistics, explanations were provided on how data analysis has affected the school system. "A formalized protocol for attendance was developed because of this data analysis," stated the superintendent. "Because of the discipline data analysis and the implementation of PBIS, one can walk into any of our schools and feel the difference," stated a school administrator. "We can't quantify everything we do but feel that our PLCs are ensuring that teachers work and plan together, using disaggregated data to ensure effective instruction in order to improve student performance," stated a system leader. Staff at all levels are encouraged to work collaboratively to continue their commitment to and demonstration of the use of data to verify progress and modify practices to improve student learning and system effectiveness. Even with the school system's focus on continuous improvement, there is a need to formalize processes and procedures to ensure consistency and continued institutional effectiveness.

3. NEEDS IDENTIFICATION AND ROOT CAUSE ANALYSIS

3.1 Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Read the trends and patterns summaries from each section of the data analysis process. Use the information in these summaries to complete 3.2 and 3.3. Using the summaries in 3.1 and other local data, describe the strengths and challenges or answer the guiding questions for each program. Include strengths and challenges related to: a) general program implementation, and b) students and adults involved in or affected by the program. Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.2. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Coherent Instructional:Summarize the coherent instructional system trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?

The district has begun the process of unifying all elementary schools by providing clear and consistent guidelines to Tier I instruction, providing Instructional Coaches that relay and guide district plans, provide district wide curriculum that began with MyView for ELA. During the 23-24 school year, the schools will pilot different math curriculums as we roll out new Ga math standards. A big focus will be to support year two of the MyView rollout as well as implementation of new Math standards.

Sunset Elementary will begin the year with all 1st grade teachers being new to the grade or new to Sunset. Extended support and focus will be needed for this grade.

As a whole, the majority of the teachers will be returning to Sunset with many years of experience and expertise in teaching diverse learners. Infrastructure is already in place to provide timely interventions. The teachers work well together as a team and a support one another through PLCs. In addition to classroom teachers, support for students is provided by two instructional coaches, interventionists, EL/ teachers, SpEd support, paraprofessional support as well as behavior support.

Effective Leadership:Summarize the effective leadership trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?

The district has begun the process of unifying all elementary schools by providing clear and consistent guidelines to Tier I instruction, providing Instructional Coaches that relay and guide district plans, provide district wide curriculum that began with MyView for ELA. #### Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Professional Capacity:Summarize the professional capacity trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?

Our admin team facilitates the completion of a professional learning needs assessment with the staff. The professional learning needs become the focus for the new school year. Every month, staff can choose from one of four professional learning offerings. The professional learning sessions come straight from needs identified in the needs assessment and meet the staff on their ability level. This process allows each staff member to choose the professional learning that best meets their needs. The professional learning sessions consist of two meetings over a two week window with homework for each person in between each session. This process for professional learning allows us to differentiate the needs of our staff.

Through TKES, staff set their own learning goal and see that this goal is met through grade level PLCs, district training, individualized training, RESA workshops or outside/virtual training.

Family and Community

Engagement:Summarize the family and community engagement trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?

Sunset provides a plethora of opportunities for parent involvement at meetings and events centered on student achievement. Sunset has seen tremendous growth in PTO meetings and parent data meetings throughout the year, with around 300 parents attending an event. Schools attempt to garner input through surveys throughout the year. Sunset partners with multiple agencies to build connections between the school, home and the community to extend learning past the system's reach. Sunset also utilizes the remind app, email communication, and social media to help keep parents informed of upcoming events.

Staff communicates regularly with parents through sending positive post cards, emails, Remind.

Supportive Learning

Environment:Summarize the supportive learning environment trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?

Parent feedback on the CCRPI climate rating suggests parents are pleased with the positive and safe school environment found at Sunset Elementary. The Star rating for Sunset is trending in a positive direction.

Demographic and Financial:Summarize the demographic and financial trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?

Sunset's demographics are fairly stable. Sunset is a diverse campus. Sunset shows a decrease in the number of students with disabilities and the number of students referred for special education testing. This is a result of a healthy and effective RTI program. Sunset has room to improve with regard to financial trends as the financial rating of the CCRPI report gives Sunset a three star rating. This will be a focus of improvement moving forward.

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Student Achievement:Summarize the student achievement trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?

Student achievement data for Sunset students continue to improve. As stated earlier in this report, the increase in achievement is seen in standardized tests, common assessments, and universal screening data. The students take ownership of their learning and understand where they are and how that relates to grade level expectations.

IDEA - Special Education, Economically Disadvantaged Children, and English Learners.

Using the summaries in 3.1 and other local data, describe the strengths and challenges or answer the guiding questions for each program. Include strengths and challenges related to: a) general program implementation, and b) students and adults involved in or affected by the program. Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.3. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

Strengths	Sunset continually covers the needs of SWDs by hiring and retaining certified individuals and the use of timely data to identify students needing support.  Data analysis over the past year has led to the system adding several new positions for the support of SWDs. Previous disproportionality concerns have been addressed and corrected.
Challenges	Sunset struggles to keep SWD teachers in the same grade/school/department for a sustained amount of time. This makes it difficult to build a large cohort of experienced educators in this field. This is a contributing factor in SWDs not closing the achievement gap with their general education peers. Data will be evaluated to determine the effect of added positions to student performance.

3. REQUIRED QUESTIONS

3.1 Stakeholders, Coordination of Activities, Serving Children, and PQ

Required Questions

1. In developing this plan, briefly describe how the school sought advice from individuals (teachers, staff, other school leaders, paraprofessionals, specialized instructional support personnel, parents, community partners, and other stakeholders).

School stakeholders were surveyed, data review meetings, parent/community input meetings.

2. Describe how the school will ensure that low-income and minority children enrolled in the Title I school are not served at disproportionate rates by ineffective, out-of-field, or inexperienced teachers.

All teachers at Sunset are highly qualified and are teaching in-field.

3. Provide a general description of the Title I instructional program being implemented at this Title I school. Specifically define the subject areas to be addressed and the instructional strategies/methodologies to be employed to address the identified needs of the most academically at-risk students in the school. Please include services to be provided for students living in local institutions for neglected or delinquent children (if applicable).

Sunset spends Title 1 funds to have additional staff members working with students defined in an intervention type role. At-risk students are placed in our Response to Intervention procedures where they receive appropriate instruction, by certified adults, depending on their need.

4. If applicable, provide a description of how teachers, in consultation with parents, administrators, and pupil services personnel, will identify eligible children most in need of services in Title I targeted assistance schools/programs. Please include a description of how the school will develop and implement multiple (a minimum of 2) objective, academic-based performance criteria to rank students for service. Also include a description of the measurable scale (point system) that uses the objective criteria to rank all students.

Sunset uses universal screeners three times per year to determine and update student ability levels. Students scoring in the bottom 25% of each grade are identified to receive extra support (if their score is in the at risk range).
