

It's uncomfortable for us to think about an accident causing physical injury to our children. Unfortunately, accidents requiring medical attention sometimes occur despite all the safeguards in place.

When an accident requires medical attention National Security Insurance Company's School and Recreational Accident Insurance Plan is here to help. Our Plan is designed to supplement your existing health care coverage in the event of accidental injury. You decide how to use the benefits received under our Plan, whether it is to assist in meeting a deductible or a co-payment requirement, whatever the need.

The National Security School and Recreational Accident Plan can cover your child for only pennies a day. The cost is only $14.00 to cover your child during the school day for the entire school year, including summer school. For a premium of $42.00 the coverage can be extended to 24 hours a day through the school year and summer months; coverage ends at midnight the day before school starts for the next school year. The plan includes coverage for all school sponsored sports with the exception of junior high, jr. varsity and varsity football. (Coverage for football can be purchased for an additional $55.00 premium. Contact us or your school's football coach for more information.)

Take a look at the benefits outlined in this brochure and enroll your child today using the attached enrollment form.

NOTE: This is a descriptive brochure of policy benefits, not a policy. All benefits and provisions of the master policy apply. A copy of the Master Policy is available for review at the office of the Policyholder.
